Advanced Practice Nursing

NYU Langone Medical Center is a leading environment for excellence in Advanced Practice Nursing. Our APNs are valued clinicians who strive for excellence through evidence-based practice, self-governance, and innovative thinking. They provide the high quality care to our patients and their families. They function independently and are equipped as leaders and expert collaborators.

Our team includes:
- Nurse Practitioners
- Certified Nurse Midwives
- Certified Registered Nurse Anesthetists
- Clinical Nurse Specialists

Advanced Practice Nurses can be found in every clinical specialty and sub-specialties at NYU Hospitals Center. APNs provide direct clinical care, lead practice councils, hold key organizational positions in healthcare-related organizations, serve in communities, and publish their unique works in various nursing and related literatures. Their work and voices are impactful in effecting changes in healthcare delivery systems. Some of their innovative works center on professional development of APNs that promote self-governance, APN satisfaction, and innovation in professional and clinical practice. Our APNs engage in activities that promote ongoing self-governance, professional development, and accountability such as the APN Clinical Ladder, APN Mentorship Program, APN Peer Review, and the APN M&M. All of these demonstrate professional and institutional commitment that foster an environment of continued growth and development while laying the foundation for excellence in advanced practice nursing.
